Disaster Recovery

Implement a Disaster Recovery Plan -- Before Disaster Strikes!

Do you have a Disaster Recovery Plan? The most common response is: "What's a Disaster Recovery Plan?" or "I did a backup." Contrary to what many people think, Disaster Recovery does not end at doing daily backups. That is merely the start. Many people do not bother creating Disaster Recovery Plans, because a disaster that may require it "never" happens. Businesses are learning the hard way that they do happen, and those Recovery plans are needed.

Disaster Recovery Plans should consist of how to deal with the following:

- Contingency planning
- Natural Disasters (i.e.: Hurricanes, Fire, Flood, Storm, etc)
- Blackouts
- Hardware failure
- Theft
- Viruses / Adware
